GOOD NEWS.Herring Have Struck In at Bay of Islands.*All Vessels in the Arms Now Loading.

Good news comes from Bay of Islands, N. F., and the salt herring outlook shifts from grave to gay. Herring have struck in and are now plentiful, and all the vessels in the arms of the bay are now loading. Up to date the prospect for a prosperous salt herring season has been dim, but this bit of good news changes the complexion of the situation and means dollars instead of out of pockets for the owners of the large fleet of vessels there for cargoes.

Herring still remain in Essex river, and the torchers and natters did well yesterday afternoon and night and sent down 300 barrels of fresh herring to show for their labors. One drag seine took 125 barrels off Clay Point.
